DETAILED ACTION

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of legal phraseology "means". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "the head" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "the speed of rotation" in line 11. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "the coil" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the terminals" in line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 4, line 7, states "in its part", but it is not clear what "part" applicant is referring to, is it the "restraining part"?

Claims 3 and 7 are rejected as being dependent upon a rejected base claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,762,030 to Paglericcio et al.

Regarding Claim 1, Paglericcio teaches a muzzle comprising: a restraining part (Paglericcio #14) designed to surround the mouth of an animal (Paglericcio Fig.1) to prevent it from opening, and means for holding (Paglericcio #16 and 24) the restraining part on the head, characterized in that the restraining part is being arranged such away that it opens elastically so long as it is subjected to a force below a limit value, and is locked if that force is exceeded (Paglericcio abstract, modulus of elasticity of the material #14 is the limiting value).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
